THE SABBATH SCHOOL VISITOR

THE Visitor is Edited by the Rev. Asa Bullard, Secretary Mass. S. S. Society and published at Boston Monthly; each number containing 24 pages with a piece of Music, prepared for the work by Lowell Mason, Prof of the Boston Academy of Music, and at least one engraving; and it comes at 50 cents a year in advance. The Society have found it necessary, in order to prevent losses, to adopt this rule: not to send the Visitor to any one, except Agents who become responsible, till the subscription is received.

This work is published for the purpose of aiding parents and teachers in the religious instruction of the young, and of interesting children and youth and also adults, in the study of the Bible.

The object of this article is to request Ministers, Superintendents and other friends of Sabbath Schools, to lend their influence in extending the circulation of this little work in their respective Societies, Schools and families. The SEVENTH volume commences with January next.

The subscriber is Agent for the Work and will receive subscriptions and deliver the numbers at BANGOR, free of any expense of freightage, to the subscribers.

A little effort would very much increase the circulation of the Visitor and it is believed, greatly aid those who are laboring for the welfare of the young. Will not Superintendents, especially, use their influence the present month, to introduce this periodical into their respective schools?

The subscriber is also Agent for all the Publications of the Mass. S. S. Society, and they can be had at No. 6, Smith's Block, Bangor, at the Society's prices. E. F. DUREN. 1m D18

BANGOR WHIG.

SATURDAY, JANUARY 12, 1839.

[Correspondence of the Whig & Courier.]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 6, 1839.

As in my last, I promised, I proceed to give your readers some account of Mr. Niles' "scene" in the Senate, yesterday.

There has always existed a custom, at least for many years, of permitting the Reporters of the Press, as well out of the city, as in it, to occupy such places, under the direction of the President of the Senate, as enabled them to take notes of the proceedings of that body, for the purpose of furnishing the papers with which they are connected, prompt information of what goes on in that chamber. By a rule adopted at the last session, this privilege is confined, exclusively, to the reporters of the Washington city press. These gentlemen take full notes of what transpires, thus accumulating a large quantity of matter, which is written out and published, as the city papers find room for it; and thus the country knows but little, through the city papers, of what transpires in the Senate, till many days after it occurs. It is true, that there is an instance or two of one of these city reporters also having engagements out of the city, and so being enabled to furnish distant papers with an abstract of the proceedings, daily, but these instances are rare, and of course, of but partial public benefit.

Feeling this oppressive rule bearing on them and the papers for which they are employed to furnish information of the Senate proceedings, very hardly, some eight or ten of the reporters of distant papers, (among which, your paper, though not named, would not of course be found wanting, had the effort prevailed,) memorialized that body, placing these facts before its members, and claiming a portion of the east gallery, (as of old was the custom,) to be set apart for them, in a cheap, and not, to the Senate, an inconvenient manner. This memorial was presented by Mr. Norvell, (adm.) from Michigan, and on his motion, referred to the Committee on Contingent Fund. It was signed by members of both political parties, representing papers on both sides. The Committee reported favorably, and offered a resolution to the effect that the prayer of the memorial be granted. Mr. Norvell, Mr. Preston and Mr. Knight sustained the resolution.

Mr. Niles, Mr. King of Ala. Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Strange opposed it. Mr. Niles moved its indefinite postponement, which motion, 37 Senators out of the 52 being present, prevailed by a majority of three votes. This was a decided loco foco vote, and could not have prevailed, in a full Senate, the more gentlemanly, liberal, and honorable portion of the dominant party there, being decidedly in favor of the petition and resolution.

The Senator from Conn., the Great-ordered-Ite, took the lead in this movement against the press. He contended for his right to do so, by virtue of the fact, that he had been selected as the object of much severe remark, by the corps of newspaper correspondents, here. He whined bitterly under remembered castigations, and felt his pelvis tingle anew as he called back the records, which the chroniclers of the press, in the line of their duty, had filed, with regard to his petty servility and subserviency, while on that floor.

With the time of his departure, forever, from that Chamber, ghost like rising before his troubled vision, he contrived to concentrate, in this his dying speech, against the press, as much venom and malice as ever he could distil out of his old grievancies, and individual complaints. I forbear to go into particular details. I am not [illegible] ending folly, which, if so minded, I might, however, fill the a folio, in recalling such scenes in Congress, for years past. Enough to day, to say, that the speech was "of a piece" with the political [illegible], oral, and written, heretofore for [illegible] years put forth by this unhappy person.

Mr. Preston took the lead in reply to this outpouring of wrath: and defended the resolution, and the claims of the petitioners, on which it was based, with such ability and eloquence. He was, moreover, quite humored, in his mode of handling the matter, and many passages of sportive wit, allusive to Niles, sparkled through his speech.

Now, how perfectly preposterous is all this! Here are a body of men, who ask the extension of an old, and even now partially extended privilege to the [illegible] of giving daily abstracts of the proceedings of the Senate to the public press. These men are partizans of both sides, and wish to furnish reports to the country. If they go farther, and [illegible] what takes place there, they do no more than what [illegible] partizans on the floor, under the rules, already existing, also freely do. What, then, is this [illegible] but a [illegible] rable and contemptible [illegible] ing of petty personal spite, on the part of individuals, who are afraid of the light, and [illegible] darkness, because their deeds are evil?

The [illegible] this [illegible], knows, full well, the power of the press. No man has used and abused that powerful engine to a more unworthy [illegible] in this or any other country, and it is because he fears, for himself and his party, the potent power of that engine, the terrors and denunciation of which he has, often [illegible] relentlessly lashed on the heads of others, that he [illegible] (thank God for but a brief [illegible] longer!) as the citadel, [illegible] ed [illegible] nility and de [illegible] who [illegible] personal company [illegible]

[illegible] your readers a full account of what transpires in the Senate [illegible] you shall hereafter have reason to acknowledge.

[illegible]
WASHINGTON, Jan. 7, 1839.

In the house, to-day, the States were called through for petitions, and a vast number were, as usual, presented, on every variety of subject. But few were of sufficient interest to be specially named.

Mr. Wise presented one, signed by [illegible], the memorial being dated in Maine, with a seal, bearing the device of a sheaf of wheat, and the motto, "you want a thrashing," asking him to move for the rescinding of the "Atherton gag." Wise moved to refer it to a committee, with instructions, that all abolition petitions heretofore received and now on file, be returned to the signers, and that no more be hereafter received on that subject.

The whole thing lay, of course, on the table, under the "Atherton gag."

Mr. Adams occupied, as he generally does, a very large portion of the day, in the presentation of his hordes of petitions upon all sorts of subjects. On these he made, from time to time, several motions, out of which grew some funny excitement, some calling of yeas and nays, many divisions of the house, frequent calls to order, and much ado about nothing.

Among Mr. Adams's batch, were petitions from every part of the country. Hardly a State but what was represented in the copious budget.— You State was honored, several petitions on the subject of slavery having been offered by him, in the name of some of your fellow-citizens.

A petition being offered by Mr A., as from Maine, that gentleman was proceeding, as the rule of the House requires, to state succinctly, its contents. It contained six different propositions, and Mr. Adams was reciting them, with his eye on the petition, when up rose Mr. Virgil, for the use of the Dauphin, Parris, of that State; and with very much the bounce and bluster of a parched corn, he asked if the gentleman from Massachusetts was in order to read the petition.

To this Mr. A. responded, I was stating its contents, under the rule: It comes from that gentleman's own constituents!

Mr. Virgil, &c. &c. said briskly, I know it does!

The Chair said the gentleman from Massachusetts is in order.

Mr. Adams went on.

Again: Mr. A. presented a memorial from sundry citizens, praying Congress to pass a law to preclude all persons with the slightest mixture of African blood from any public office and for the raising of a "Committee of color," to enquire into the pedigree of Office-holders, and members of that body, with a view to keeping the pure Anglo-Saxon stock free from the contamination of contact with the descendants of Ham.

This made a good deal of laugh,—was treated as a quiz, and laid on the table. It is a funny production, and when published, as it will be in to-morrow's city papers, you shall have a copy of it.

Mr. Toucey fills Mr. Fairfield's vacancy on the Foreign Affairs Committee. He was already on the Judiciary Committee. Quite a consideration for the Chairman of the Cilley duel Committee.

In the Senate, I hear that nothing was done, of importance, but listening to a speech from Mr. Smith of Indiana, on the graduation Land Bill.

Yours truly.

[Correspondence of the Whig & Courier.]
STATE HOUSE, AUGUSTA, }
Friday, Jan. 11, 1839. }

A Convention of the two Houses was formed to-day, at 11 o'clock, to qualify John Webb, Councillor elect. He appeared [illegible] subscribed the necessary oaths. It was understood this morning that a number of nominations were to be made, to-day, but up to this hour, (2 o'clock, P. M.) none have been announced. A great crowd are here, waiting in anxious expectation. A distinguished literary gentleman of your city left here this morning, in disgust. He has been dancing attendance on "the powers that be," for a few weeks past, and but a few days since, thought he was sure of the appointment of Attorney General. But "a change has come o'er the spirit of his dream." Some of his competitors that he thought he had "killed off," wont "stay killed," and he has at last learned that he did not find the "democratic party" early enough to secure to him the office.

The business of the Senate to day has been unimportant. In the House they have had up the old subject of copying Clerk. Mr. Tyler of Newfield introduced an order to raise a Committee to employ some person to draft and copy bills for the members at a salary not exceeding three dollars per day. This order was opposed by Messrs. Levensaller of Thomaston, and Sheldon of Gardiner. Mr. Andrews of Turner came out in his maiden speech, in its defence. He attempted to be very eloquent, and if an affected voice or awkward gestures constitute eloquence, the gentleman succeeded to his heart's content, but not otherwise. His matter was as trite as the subject on which he was speaking. As soon as Mr. Andrews had concluded his speech, Mr. Bradbury of New Gloucester observed that after the eloquent and impressive speech from the gentleman from Turner, he thought it unnecessary to enter into the general merits of the order. There was one reason why the order should pass, that the gentleman had [illegible] mentioned. He would take the liberty to allude to it. It was known to every member of the House that there was a great number in attendance, in pursuit of an office. If the order passed, this would [illegible] and to gratify [illegible] of the numerous applicants [illegible]

Only. The Report was laid on the table, and three hundred copies ordered to be printed. The Bay [illegible] to the right of Mr. D. [illegible] [illegible] Yours respectfully, G. H. I.

[For the Whig & Courier.]

Several [illegible] ks have recently been [illegible] upon our [illegible] Street Commissioner, through the Bangor Democrat, which are too unjust and unfounded to be passed over in silence. The writer does not doubt that the Editor of the Democrat believed that which he stated, or which [illegible] ted into the columns of his paper, but [illegible] should have been [illegible] prudent in [illegible] king charges of so [illegible] character. [illegible] the Street Commissioner is accused of having charged the city $38 for [illegible] against which cost only $16 and [illegible] to have substantiated the accusation. His foreman is now here, and denies having said or intimated such a thing and moreover there is no such charge in his account.

He is accused of having paid one Johnson for the use of two horses a certain sum, and for more working days than there are in the year when in the same Johnson had four horses and a part of the time five and the foreman took down his work from day to day, and he was paid accordingly.

There are other charges, too, equally destitute of truth.

It is but justice too, to add, that there has been no bill presented to the city, since the resignation of the Street Commissioner, (which belonged to him to pay,) nor is it believed by those who have investigated the matter, that he owes one dollar, for any article purchased for the city, either directly or indirectly.

Will the editor of the Democrat give this an insertion? JUSTICE.

[For the Whig and Courier.]

NORTH DIXMONT ROAD.—In the Courier of the 8th inst. you have copied an article from the Maine Farmer, in which it is stated that this road saves nearly three miles travel, &c. The imposition attempted upon the public by this statement, induces me to request you to publish the following survey, by which it will be seen that the saving in distance is in favor of the present stage road. JUSTUS.

The undersigned having measured the stage and north roads from Bangor to where they intersect each other in the town of Troy, has found the former 28 174 320 miles, and the latter 28 215 320 miles, making the former the shorter by 41 rods. ISAAC ABBOT.

Penobscot, ss. March 2J, 1838.

Personally appeared the above named Abbot and made oath, that the statement by him subscribed is true, before me,
JONA. G. HUNTON, Justice of the Peace.

[illegible] The evils which will result from the adoption of the Sub-Treasury System, recommended by the President, are thus shown by Mr. Rives, in his late excellent Speech in the United States Senate:

"Now, with due deference, I must be permitted to say, Mr. President, that of all the systems yet suggested, for conducting the finances of the country, this, to my mind is fraught with the deepest danger to the public liberty. What sir! banks to be "used or not" as fiscal agents, according as the President and Secretary of the Treasury may determine it to be useful, politic or convenient to do so! The consequence would necessarily be to put all the moneyed institutions of the country under the power and at the devotion of the Executive. No rule of law being established, regulating the employment of Banks, no limit fixed to the number which might be employed, or terms prescribed on which they should be employed, so one might be employed [illegible] those already employed might be dismissed, and new ones taken into the service of the government, at the sole will and pleasure of the Executive, what would this be but to convert the whole community of banks into suitors for Executive favor, and to subject them to the dominion of Executive power? Under this system, if the Executive so willed it, the Sub-Treasury Scheme might be carried out in one section of the country, with all its desolating exactions of specie, runs upon the banks, &c. while in another, banks would be the favored agents of the government, and through them every facility be given to the operations of industry and trade.

What would this be, I again ask, but to create in the hands of the Executive a power absolutely despotic, over the pecuniary concerns of the people? It would give the Executive not merely that "exclusive custody, and entire control of the public moneys", which is the great end of the Sub-treasury Scheme, but it would invest them with a sweeping dominion over the whole of the moneyed institutions of the country. To so fearful an accumulation of power in the hands of a department of the government, whose patronage and influence have already proved an overmatch for the representatives of the people and the States, and I sometimes fear, for the people and the States themselves, I for one will never consent.

No sir, if the banks are the safest depositories, and best fiscal agents of the government, as I believe them to be, and as the practice and in a great degree, the language of the administration admit them to be, let their employment be regulated by law; let the number to be employed be limited by law; let the terms and conditions on which they are to be employed, the manner of their selection, and the services they are to perform, be all defined by law; let the power of the executive over them be strictly guarded by a legislative declaration of the sole causes, for which, when once employed, they shall be discontinued, and requiring in every such case, a prompt report to Congress of the special reasons of the discontinuance. In so grave and important a trust as the care and management of the public Treasure, one too, so peculiarly the province of the legislative department to supervise, and in all countries [illegible] so intimately [illegible] with the public liberty, let us leave nothing to executive discretion, which can be defined and regulated by law."

[illegible] Welland [illegible] friends in [illegible] city, Swedish and A[illegible] [illegible] Now, after this that our [illegible] friends of the Evening Post and Argus [illegible] of the ten dollar dinner at the Astor House [illegible] Whigs are so touch at all [illegible] Agrarians, in the matter of gormandizing. Not enjoying the spoils, our friends could only pay [illegible] dollars for the greatest banquet ever got up at the Astor House. But Gen. Jackson's pet [illegible] not at THIRTY. Com. Adv.

A young lady of Pittsburgh, Pa. lately recovered [illegible] hundred dollars of a swain, who dared [illegible] her affections, who [illegible] for [illegible] gained her love, and then basely deserted her for the smiles of another.

We also learn from the Barre Gazette, that Miss Laurinda Gibbs, of Sturbridge, Massachusetts, lately recovered of Dr. Cyrus Hutchins, the sum of $615 83, which is the precise amount, including interest on the sum, which the lady, who is now so fortunate as to become Mrs. Hutchins, had previously obtained of a former faithless swain, for a similar breach of Hymen's common law!

LACONIC CORRESPONDENCE.

Every body, almost, has heard of, or seen, Silas Dinsmore, the Government Officer to whom Gen. Jackson, it is said, shewed his pistol passports Dinsmore was a brave man, and a wit withal. We have heard it said that, when he was Collector of the port of Mobile, something not unlike the following correspondence took place between him and the then Secretary of the Treasury. We vouch not for its truth, however. We only relate it as it was told to us some years ago. At all events it is like Dinsmore.

A DRINKING SONG.

Fill the cup, the bowl, the glass,
With wine and spirits high,
And we will drink, while round they pass
To Vice and Misery!

Push quickly round the draught again,
And drain the goblet low,
And drink in revelry's swelling strain
To—Reason's overthrow!

Push round, push round, in quickest time,
The lowest drop be spent,
In one loud round, to—Grief and crime,
And crime's just punishment!

Fill, fill again! fill to the brim;
To loss of honest fame.
Quaff deeper quaff while now we drink
Our wives' and children's shame!

Push round and round, with loudest cheers
Of mirth and revelry
We drink to Women's sighs and tears,

Once more, while power shall yet remain,
E'en with its latest breath,
Drink! to OURSELVES Disease and Pain,
And Infamy and Death!

DR EVANS'
CAMOMILE AND APERIENT [illegible]
THE DIFFERENCE.

IT cannot be denied that whilst many medicines which are recommended to the public have not even the negative merit of harmlessness, there are others which it would be great injustice indeed and suicidal prejudice to involve in a common condemnation And when a medicine comes endorsed with all the great names that have adorned the annals of the medical profession and warranted by the seal and signature of long and uniform success its proprietor makes no unreasonable demand upon the public confidence when he claims for it a superior consideration

The Camomile Preparation by Dr Wm Evans is undeniably entitled to this enviable distinction, for whilst no medical authority in existence condemns it, every medical practitioner that is acquainted with it freely acknowledges its pre eminent virtues and that the latter should do so in opposition to their personal interests, must be attributed either to their candor and love of truth or to their unwillingness to fly in the face of all observation, and the testimony of thousands.

Dr W. Evans does not pretend that his Camomile Tonic Pills will cure all diseases He frankly and conscientiously admits that they will not He lays no claim to the discovery of the "Philosopher's Stone" and wishes nobody to believe that he sells the "Elixir of Life" but he does say, and he does believe, and he can prove, that in debility and impaired constitution, in Nervous diseases of all kinds, in weakness of the digestive organs in incipient consumptions, whether of the lungs or the liver, in the dreadful debility occasioned by the use of purgatives, in palsy, rheumatism (more especially) in the sickness incident to mothers and to females of delicate [illegible], in every case of delirium tremens or that disease which is brought on by intemperance, in the wretched horrors of body and mind which accrue from occasional inebriety, loss of appetite languor melancholy pains in the head limbs or side; in corrupt sallow, and uncomely complexions caused by the bad state of the fluids in all these cases and in others mentioned in the bills of directions given with his medicines HE DOES SAY that the Camomile Tonic Pills, interchanged occasionally with his Aperient Family Pills (the best known) which are sold with them will effect immediate relief, and if used but for a fair period of trial a perfect cure This much is placed beyond a doubt by daily testimonies which would be given on oath and for this much Dr W Evans can conscientiously request confidence He therefore need only add that his Camomile Tonic Pills together with his excellent Family Aperient Pills can be obtained wholesale or retail at No 7 Division street near Chatham square N York and his authorized agents in town and country

Other and more conclusive demonstrations of the efficacy of Dr Evans' Camomile Preparation and Aperient Medicines are submitted by the following important and extraordinary cures effected by their highly medicinal qualities, all of which may be seen at Dr. Wm Evans' Medical Office No 7 Division street One or two of these he herewith respectfully gives to a discriminating public

Dr Wm Evans—Sir, be pleased to receive the thanks of one who has been a great sufferer for several years for the great benefits she has received from the virtues of your inestimable Camomile Pills She has suffered with pain and distress in the head, a lightness across the head a tightness across the stomach shortness of breath, and palpitation of the heart, exercise would almost overcome her, but since using your Camomile Tonic Pills her complaints are removed she is able to exercise without fatigue and she is happy to say, can enjoy life comfortably again.

Newark, July 18 1836 Dear Sir, for four years I have been so unwell that I was unable to attend to my business, and for the last 4 or 5 months was confined to my room, my complaints were rheumatism, pains in my stomach indigestion and loss of appetite, with continued pain and dizziness in my head, I used different kinds of medicines without effect, until I commenced taking your invaluable Camomile and Aperient Pills, their beneficial effects upon me astonish all who knew my situation In a few days I shall be at your office to express my gratitude to you in person In the mean time I subscribe myself your most ob't serv't

Dr. Wm Evans.

Extract of a letter from Jonas Snyder, Postmaster Knoxville Pa to Dr Wm Evans Among several cases an elderly lady who had been 25 yrs afflicted with nervous hypochondria debility &c that for the last 3 years she constantly received medical aid from a respectable physician, but the pressure and pain on her heart and breast and especially in her left side remained immovable attended at long intervals with weakness in her head and on her mind keeping her discouraged to undertake any thing In May she commenced using Dr W Evans' Camomile and Family Aperient Pills according to the direction accompanying them A reaction took place; the pains and pressure in her body was removed, her mind became clear and strong, her spirits perfectly good and up to this time [illegible] [illegible] which for the last [illegible] years she has not enjoyed"

Sept 2 1836 JONAS SNYDER

ON LOW SPIRITS—Low spirits is a certain state of the mind accompanied by indigestion, wherein the greatest evils are apprehended upon the slightest grounds and the worst consequences imagined Ancient writers supposed this disease to be confined to those particular regions of the abdomen technically called hypochondria which are situated on the right or left side of that cavity, whence comes the name hypochondriasis

SYMPTOMS The common corporeal symptoms are flatulency in the stomach and bowels, acrid eructations costiveness, spasmodic pains giddiness dimness of sight palpitations, and often an utter inability of fixing the attention upon any subject of importance or engaging in any thing that demands vigor or courage Also languidness, the mind becomes irritable, thoughtful desponding, melancholy and dejected accompanied with a total derangement of the nervous system The mental feelings and peculiar train of ideas that haunt the imagination and overwhelm the judgment exhibit an infinite diversity The wisest and best of men are as open to this affliction as the weakest

CAUSES A sedentary life of any kind, especially severe study, protracted to a late hour in the night and rarely relieved by social intercourse or exercise a dissolute habit, great excess in eating and drinking the immoderate use of mercury violent purgatives the suppression of some habitual discharge or long continued eruption, relaxation or debility of one or more important organs within abdomen is frequent cause

TREATMENT The principal objects of treatment are to remove indigestion, to strengthen the body, and to enliven the spirits which may be promoted by exercise early hours, regular meals and pleasant conversation The bowels (if costive) being carefully regulated by the occasional use of a mild aperient We know nothing better calculated to obtain this end than Dr Wm Evans' Aperient Pills—being mild and certain in their operation. The bowels being once cleansed, his inestimable Camomile Pills (which are tonic anodyne & anti spasmodic) are an infallible remedy, & without dispute have proved a great blessing to the numerous public

Some physicians have recommended a free use of mercury but it should not be resorted to, as in many cases it will greatly aggravate symptoms.

THE most safe, effectual and economical remedy for disease of the Human Constitution, that has ever been discovered.

These Pills are composed entirely of materials extracted from Medical Plants and are warranted not to contain one particle of mercury, or any mineral substance Dr Kingsley, the inventor of this valuable medicine from his knowledge of the human system derived from a long and extensive practice, has arrived to the conclusion, that the great and primary cause of most diseases is a derangement in the functions of the [illegible], or in other words an increased or diminished secretion of the Bile

So well is this understood that it is common for persons to say when they feel unwell that they are bilious meaning that they have too much bile in the stomach On the other hand, when the flow of bile is diminished, the process of digestion is imperfectly performed, the patient becomes weak and emaciated, because nourishment contained in the food taken into the stomach is not properly extracted, and the food is ejected in a crude state Dr Kingsley is confident that the famous Hygean Theory so called, that "impurity of the blood is the cause of all diseases" is a great absurdity Every one who reflects upon the subject a moment will perceive that impurity of the blood is a secondary not a primary complaint the effect and not the cause of the disease When the functions of the liver are deranged and the flow of bile increased it is often taken up by the absorbent vessels and carried into the circulation, and becomes mingled with the blood as in Jaundice, when the patient shows it in his countenance Now this impurity of the blood is caused by an increased flow of the bile and to remedy it you must correct the secretion of the liver and restore it to a healthy state

Dr Kingsley has spent much time in experimenting with different vegetable medicines, for diseases of the liver, and now offers his Universal Family Pills as the best, most convenient and cheapest medicine that can be prepared for general use; and in offering them to the public he is actuated more by benevolent than pecuniary motives, as the price of the medicine will show

Dr Kingsley flatters himself that his long experimenting with vegetable medicines has enabled him to discover the true and only substitute answering all the purposes of mercurials, without any of their attendant evils One great quality of his family Pills is, that they have the alterative principle combined with their cathartic or operative quality, so that they not only cleanse the stomach and bowels by purging but they regulate the liver change the morbid secretions, strengthen the digestive organs, purify the blood, invigorate the circulation, and give tone and energy to the nervous system

They are mild and pleasant in their operation, and almost immediate conviction of their utility from the first dose They can be taken with safety by persons of any age and the feeble the infirm the nervous the delicate, are strengthened by their operation because they clear the system of bad humors, quiet nervous irritabilities and restlessness from whatever source, and invariably produce sound sleep

The Family Pills are an invariable remedy for jaundice, sick and nervous headache, dyspepsia, costiveness sickness of the stomach heartburn all bilious complaints fevers of all kinds and if taken at the commencement will invariably check their progress, and save the patient from a protracted and dangerous sickness They are invaluable in nervous and hypochondriacal affections loss of appetite and all complaints to which females alone are subject They operate as a mild and speedy purge, and are a safe and certain remedy for worms in children

I might publish a small volume of certificates but consider it unnecessary, as the medicine will recommend itself to all who will make trial of it

"PUBLIC OPINION IS SELDOM WRONG" Junius

PUBLIC OPINION Public opinion is perhaps the only unerring guide from whose decision there is no appeal, and was there ever such a manifestation of its approval as there is with Brandreth's Vegetable Universal Pill? Step by step has this medicine wormed itself into favor in spite of [illegible] derision and scorn Triumphant has been its progress to its present sphere of extensive usefulness. It has surmounted obstacles before which quackery [illegible] paralyzed and has gained for itself a reputation which neither Physicians, nor flippant, sordid, counterfeiting apothecaries can ever injure. These charlatans, nevertheless do assail it with the malignant shafts of their despicable envy, and which rebounds upon themselves with a power each day on the increase, until they themselves will be covered with the slime of their own manufacturing. They can no more injure the reputation of Brandreth's Pills than they can put their hand upon the [illegible]

"Or with polluted fingers tarnish it"

If to discover the cause and nature of disease, if to make a medicine universal in its powers, and universal in its curative effects upon every kind of malady proved by the cures performed upon thousands of persons restored to the blessings of health [illegible] praiseworthy, then is Dr Benjamin Brandreth entitled to the praise of this and each succeeding generation By the means he points out [illegible] are prevented What are the means? Simply Vegetable Purgation, and it is now an established fact that there is no other way by which a REAL CURE can be effected

John Dorr's County Agency being discontinued by mutual consent, Sub-Agents in Waldo Penobscot, Hancock and Washington Counties, will hereafter receive their supplies from Mr JOHN O LANGLEY, Dr Brandreth's duly authorized Travelling Agent, or from the New England Office

STOREKEEPERS' SECURITY All persons who are authorized to travel for Doctor Benjamin Brandreth have invariably the power of attorney from him proved before the Clerk of the County of New York Without this is exhibited, touch, taste, nor handle

STILL FURTHER, Dr Brandreth's Travellers never require the money in advance. Dr B's terms being Medicine to be paid for when sold

SECURITY TO THE PUBLIC Observe that the certificate is dated this year, Eighteen hundred and thirty eight, in figures, and see if [illegible] figures are engraved not written

Inquire whether the power of attorney was seen when the Pills were left, &c

All Pills having Wm Brandreth on the label George Hodgkinson on the edge, are counterfeits, made to Deceive the Public and evade the law at the same time

These, and indeed ALL counterfeit Pills, if used according to the direction which accompany my Pills are calculated to destroy life. They are made by men having no standing or respectability, without habitation or name, perfectly careless of consequences provided money is obtained Extract from Dr B's address to citizens of U. S.

And be careful to remember that I have never authorized any Doctor, Druggist, Apothecary or Pedlar in the U S to sell my pills. These contemptible persons universally sell counterfeits, and that all Tradesmen who are made agents have each of them a copperplate certificate of agency, signed in writing with a pen by me, and which certificate requires renewal every twelve months that being no guarantee for more than one year from date observe the date is not written, it is engraved
